Land for Sale with Detached Derelict Three-Bedroom House Excellent Development Opportunity An increasingly rare opportunity to acquire a generous parcel of land featuring a detached three-bedroom house in a derelict condition, offering significant potential for redevelopment, renovation, or a bespoke new-build project (subject to the necessary planning permissions). The existing property sits within the plot and requires full refurbishment or replacement, making it ideal for developers, investors, or buyers seeking to create a custom home tailored to their exact specifications. The land benefits from established access and is already connected to all main services, including water, electricity, and drainage, providing a strong foundation for any future development and reducing initial setup costs and complexity. Set in a good location, the plot offers scope to maximise value through thoughtful design and planning. Whether restoring the current structure or starting afresh, this site presents a versatile and appealing investment opportunity.
